Elder A. T. Burns and ordained minister of the Gospell and a member of Hays Creek Missionary Baptist church located in Montgomery County Miss. Having applied for a letter of dissmission from this church and we having ascertained that he is not in full fellowship with us make the folling statement. We find from Bro. Burns statement that he agrees with us on the Doctrines of grace and the ordinances of the church and the necessity and importance of carying out the great commission given in Mathew 28-18-19 But he declares non fellowship with our manner of executing the masters command. In doing this he violates the spirit of our church covernant. Thereby placing himself out of fellowship with us since no command is given in the Scriptures concerning the manner in which the work is to be done and in the labors of the Apostles only cooperative missionary work is practice. We have elected to cooperate with Sister churches in exercnting our Lords Will From the teachin as of Bro. ## HAYS CREEK CHURCH 1835-1886 Story by Charles Pinkney Adair

The following was published in the Winona Times, March 12, 1886. Letter was written by Charles Pinkney Adair, son of William H. Adair and Elizabeth Ross Adair. It was again published in the Winona Times, June 24, 1976.

Letter to the Pastor...Hays Creek, Miss., Mar 5, 1886 Rev. Joel Baskins Vaiden, Miss.

Dear Pastor:

As you have been chosen pastor of our church for the ensuing year, I suppose you are somewhat desirous of knowing something of the history of this house which was consecrated to God, at a time anti-dating your remembrance. If you will bear with me, I will give you just such information as I have been able to gather viva voce.

I learn that this modern temple of worship was founded or established in the year 1835. There is a difference of opinion as to the minister of the Gospel, who first served as pastor of the small log house, that then began to be called Hays Creek Church, a name applied to it because it was near a creek on which a man by the name of Hays once lived, his name having been applied to the same, long prior to the church establishment, whereon the creek he resided. Its pastors have been, in the following succession: Reverends Morris, Baker Crowson, M. White, S.S.Lattinmore, J. Thomas, Wm. Herrod, H. Pittman, R. M. Currie, J. P. Holliman, Z. McMath, G. Hall, A.S.Bailey, G. Woodruff, J. A. Oliver, J. T. Freeman, A. H. Booth, J. P. Thompson, R. W. Thompson, R. W. Merrill, inclusion. From some of the old citizens, I learned that the first two mentioned; probably were not de facto pastors, but did a great deal of preaching; and ministerial work in the vicinity; though I find this so stated in the church records dating back to 1850. The original church records were burned together with the clerks residence about the year 1845, and these matters were gathered then as I gather them now 'from the most retestive memory." I think Sir, I can safely say, Rev. M. White was the first pastor in the original church. Thus making nineteen serving the pastorial capacity during the one half of a century. Making nearly an average of three years for each one, though, they served from one to thirteen years. J. P. Thompson being the one who served thirteen years from November 1868 to December, 1882, and C.C. Lee perhaps the next in point of length of time, and Rev. H. Pittman the third.

The first house of worship that was called Hays Creek Church, was a small log house, made of small jack oak logs, if you know anything of this classification of the oak, it is useless for me to say the house was indeed a small Church, though this was comparatively a new country at this date (1835) and quite sparsely settled so it was "sufficient unto the days thereof" – it also served as a school house at the same time, I have no means of knowing by whom the pastorial duties were discharged subsequent to his career, I mean exact dates, I have not learned of any remarkable event in the history of it, for the fact that as the country began to develop, its resources after such an inflex of immigration, the neighborhood became so thickly populated, a new church was very much in demand, consequently about the year 1842, the membership had agreed to contract a more fashionable and a more commodious one. This they built of hew pine logs, and measured about thirty feet each way, it had a partition wall near the east end which served to separate the slaves from their masters. I suppose you know that at that day and time, there was no such thing as a colored church in this country, and as they were all united in one common fellowship, it was necessary to provide a separate department of them. There was what we might call in this day of advanced art and literature, a rude pulpit or altar at the north side of this tabernacle. There were several instances of importance to transpire during the time this house was used as a church. The ministers who served as pastors of this church were of the number mentioned - probably from number six to number 12, enclusive. I do not know who the deacons were except that J. J. Thompson, John Oldham and George Webb were at one time acting in this capacity. This was about the year 1842-47; as deacon from that time until 1884 and has the honor of being the oldest member of it living; the second, removed from this vicinity and I know nothing of him subsequent to this; the last was made a deacon in the State of Tennessee, from which he emigrated to this state in 1854, when he annexed himself to this church, he continued to act until by age and infirmity, in 1870 he requested to be released from further obligations and duties in this office. He died in 1884 in full fellowship with the members. His age was eighty-four year.

During the period of time this pine log church served the people, there was one of its members ordained to the ministry, towit: Rev. Jas. T. Powell, in the year 1848, Revs. Obediah Echols, Daniel King and H. Pittman, presiding. He was a man evidently fitted to the response of the call. He was born in 1817 in the state of North Carolina, from which he moved to this state, but from here going to Texas State in 1850, where he spent a life of ardent and zealous work for his Master. He was the son of the good and benevolent father, Daniel Powell, who died in 1874 in the triumph of a Christian faith, honored and reverence by all, in the ninetysixth year of his age. The former died in 1873.

Mr. A. B. Robinson was made church clerk about the year 1848, about the time of his annexation to it, and served in this capacity (except a short time during the late unfriendliness between the states) to the time of his death in 1883. Mr. Robinson was a man of unparalleled Christian fidelity, and ernest and untiring worker in the church and possessed an imnipresent nature toward the helpless and needy which renders the epitaph enscribed upon his tomb which marks his final resting place, appropriate to the letter in the following language: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Mr. John H. Tredwell was elected clerk in 1883 and has since acted in that capacity, and I am constrained to say, has been an efficient one which came to him by right of inheritance, he being the eldest member capacited and being willing to accept.

Before I abandon speaking of the pine log church, perhaps it would be well to tell what became of it. The only part of it now visable is in the shape of the old blacksmith shop belonging to Mr. John H. Kent and on his farm. It was torn down in 1854 to give place to a larger house of worship, giving it a career of sacred standing, probably of fifteen years. No doubt in this old house there were many religious revivals.

Hays Creek Baptist Church 1883-1992

By Elbert Land

Hays Creek Baptist Church is located in Section Township Range 6 East, Montgomery County. The earliest existing records bearing the year 1883, reveal a quit claim deed to the Deacons of the white Hays Creek Church and their successors, four (4) acres of land deeded by John H. Kent and bearing the date Dec. 26, 1886. This was from the office of John H. Drane, Chancery Clerk of Montgomery County at that time. The amount of money paid was one dollar. The signature of J. A.
